MALINDUSTRIES, LLC. PRIVACY POLICY

Effective November 1, 2019

Metal Industries, LLC (the “Company) values your privacy. This policy describes data collection and use. By using this website, you consent to the data practices in this policy. Changes to this policy will be posted on our home page if significant; however, policy change notices are only posted for a limited time. We encourage you to check this Privacy Policy regularly to see if there have been any changes. Your use of this website is also subject to our Terms of Service. This policy applies only to the Company website and information we collect. Any affiliated sites, or any third party linked sites, may be governed by separate privacy policies, and the Company is not responsible for privacy practices of such other sites.

This Privacy Policy covers:
1. Information Collected and How It is Used
2. Sharing of Information
3. Website, Cookies & Computer-Related Information
4. Updating Information; Consent and Withdrawing Consent
5. Data Integrity and Security
6. How to Contact Us

The Company's website is intended for adults. The Company does not knowingly collect personal information from children under the age of 13. If the Company obtains knowledge that it has personally identifiable information about a child under 13 in retrievable form in its files, the Company will delete that information from our existing files.

1. Information Collected and How It is Used

We collect personal information through online and offline business activities, including information you provide (such as name, phone, email and contact information, order information for products or services, and information provided when you register as a user or for an account). We also collect information automatically as described below in connection with our website practices.

We use this information to provide products and services and for normal business activities such as processing payments, financial and contract management, audit, and to inform and update you about our products and services, support, offers and promotions, and other business functions. We may also combine this information with other generally or publicly available information to help us identify visitors' preferences or interests.

2. Sharing of Information

We may provide personal information to third parties who provide or assist in provision of business services or functions on our behalf solely for the purpose of performing those functions under our instruction. We may also transfer or share personal information with affiliates.

We may provide personal information to law enforcement or judicial authorities, third parties, organizations or individuals if we have a good-faith belief that access, use, preservation or disclosure of the personal information is reasonably necessary to: (a) meet any applicable law, regulation, subpoena, legal process or governmental request; (b) enforce applicable Terms of Service, including investigation of potential violations; (c) detect, prevent, or otherwise address fraud, security or technical issues; or (d) protect against harm to the rights, property or safety of the Company, our users, clients, or the public, all as required or permitted by law.

If the ownership of all or substantially all of our business changes or we otherwise transfer assets relating to our business to a third party (whether by merger, acquisition, bankruptcy proceeding or otherwise), we may transfer or sell your personal information to the new owner. In such a case, unless permitted otherwise by applicable law, your information would remain subject to the promises made in the applicable privacy policy.

3. Website, Cookies & Computer-Related Information

We and our service providers may automatically collect information from your computer and navigation patterns when you visit our site, including your Internet Protocol (IP) address, the computer's operating system, the type of browser you use, and the specific web pages visited during your connection. We may also track usage data to determine how visitors specifically use our websites, such as sites or references directing users to our website, websites visited before and after our website, time spent on the website and so forth, as well as aggregate data such as the total number of visits to our website and the number of visitors to each page of our website.

We and our service providers may use cookies, web beacons, pixel tags, and similar technology to generate notices of actions taken on web pages, such as whether specific pages were accessed, to retrieve and store information when you interact with the Company, or for performance management, to maintain language preference, log-in information, remember preferences and settings, or for behavior-targeted purposes or interest-based advertising. These enable us to improve the quality of our service, store user preferences, track trends, and provide you with relevant information.

If you do not agree with the use of cookies or similar technologies, you can change your browser settings to block or notify you of cookies. However, some website features or services may not function properly without cookies or these technologies.

We may also use service providers such as Google Analytics, Bing, and Multiview to collect information about your online activity, such as searches on our website, web pages and links that are clicked. Google Analytics collects information, including your IP address, using cookies (small text files placed on your device that are retrieved by web servers in the domain) and stores information on Google servers. Google also collects information on this website using Google Maps API, which gathers, processes and uses website visitor data using a map function. Information about Google’s privacy policy and Google Analytics, can be found at https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en&gl=ZZ and www.google.com/intl/en/analytics/privacyoverview.html. Multiview uses cookies, web beacons, clear Gifs and pixels, which are small or invisible image or other elements to either work with, or independently of, cookies to record and track content that has been delivered, accessed or viewed. Multiview services do not recognize “do not track” browser signals. The Multiview privacy policy can be viewed here: https://www.multiview.com/privacy-policy/. Bing and Bing Ads, services of Microsoft, also use cookies on your device to track traffic directed to the Company’s website by advertisements to show if a target or conversion page is reached. See https://privacy.microsoft.com/en-us/privacystatement for information on Microsoft’s privacy policy.

Our websites may contain links to third party websites for information or demonstrations (such as YouTube), which in some instances may be embedded within our website. YouTube is operated by Google, and data such as IP address, our specific webpage address on which the video is located, time and date of access, is transferred to Google by use of cookies and pixel tags, which are placed on your device and can personalize your search and advertising results. YouTube policies are located here: https://www.youtube.com/yt/about/policies/#community-guidelines.

Regarding all links to third party websites, please note that we do not control third party websites, nor are we responsible for their practices or policies. Users must review and rely on the terms of service and privacy policy of each third party site.
